We are also constantly kept abreast of any issues or changes in requirements with regular communications in the lead up to and onsite at each of the events.

UPPER STREET EVENTS

Exhibition Stand Design and Build

Whether you need a custom-made display for a product launch, an international expo or a suite of portable modules for small events, our stand design experts can help.

Our creative team helps clients make a great impression by combining design excellence, innovative ideas and tried and tested techniques.

And because our designers work hand-in-hand with our delivery team every display is easy to transport, build and store.

We can work to your brief and budget or suggest ideas to surprise and delight your audience. You might be surprised by what's possible.

We gave GFI sharp angles and LED screens to demonstrate their software. A low wall provided a private space for client meetings.

We provided Trayport with a inviting stand with seating areas that increased dwell time and encouraged open conversation.

Cognito wanted a lot from a small space. We created a bright space with clear benefit statements and access to Cognito's technology.

We made the Exhibition News Elite List of Transport and Logistics companies 2016.

" We were contracted to provide television coverage facilities for the Rio Olympics and Paralympics. This required 8 x 40ft sea containers and over 10 tonnes air freight of equipment to and from Brazil. The particular requirements of temporary import to the country, multiple locations and separate events added to our challenges. We used Bill Bowden Event Logistics to manage this complete process including on-site support in Rio de Janeiro and they worked well with us throughout the very complex and prestigious project, helping make it a success for all those involved."
